Privacy Policy

1. Scope of the Policy

- 1.1. The Company only uses the collected information, documents, and data for reference and actual business transactions. The foregoing information that the Client needs to provide includes, but are not limited to, full name and address, contact number, and email address. The Company stores all collected data and information for seven (7) years.
- 1.2. In some cases, the Company may collect other personal information from the Client depending on the nature of appeal or use. These further personal details include but are not limited to social security numbers, account numbers, and mortgage or health information. The Company may also collect information regarding the Client's appointment on the website for security purposes.

2. Disclosure of Data

- 2.1. The Company does not sell, license, lease, or otherwise disclose the Client's personal information to any third party or affiliate if not deemed necessary.
- 2.2. The Company reserves the right to disclose the Client's information if such detail is required to provide the service or product the Client has requested or provide the Client an opportunity to participate in the products or services that Company's affiliates offer.
- 2.3. General information about the Client will also be disclosed to affiliates that assist the Company in operating the website, conducting the Company's business, or servicing the Client.
- 2.4. Under certain circumstances, the Company may also disclose information to third parties, to regulatory, law enforcement, or other government authorities if required by law.
- 2.5. In other instances, information about the Client will be disclosed if:
  - a. If it is required to comply with a legal obligation
  - b. If it is necessary to protect and defend the Company's rights or property
  - c. If it is to secure the safety of other Clients
  - d. If it is to protect the service or product of the Company
  - e. If it is needed to investigate suspicious trading and funding activities
- 2.6. The Client can obtain his/her personal information that the Company has collected through email request.

3. Security of Information

- 3.1. The Company uses security software, systems, and procedures to provide its clients with a safe and secured trading environment. The Company also utilizes a Secure Socket Layer ("SSL") encryption technology to protect the information provided through the website. Additionally, in compliance with the privacy policy, the Company has established security methods to protect the Client's personal, financial, trading, and investing information.
- 3.2. Despite the Company's best efforts to protect the Client's information, the Company cannot and does not guarantee that the collected data or private communications will always remain private.
- 3.3. The Client acknowledges that the Company will not be liable if any third party unlawfully intercepts or accesses transmissions or private communications. The Company will presume that the Client is able to understand and accept this risk upon his/her use of the Company's services.

Due to the high risks involved in trading derivatives and other leveraged products, you should only carry out such transactions if you understand the nature of the contracts (and contractual relationships) you are entering into and if you are able to assess the extent of your risk potential fully. You should carefully consider whether trading is appropriate for you based on your experience, objectives, risk appetite, and other relevant factors. Past performance does not indicate future results.

4. Security Management

- 4.1. The Company regularly identifies, assesses, examines, and controls each type of risk related to its operations. In addition, the Company evaluates the effectiveness of the policies, arrangements, and procedures from time to time to be able to cover the financial needs and capital requirements accordingly.
- 4.2. The Company is affiliated with top-tier banks that provide practical and adequate safety measures for the Clients' funds to be one of the industry's most reliable and transparent financial firms.

5. Encryption

- 5.1. The Company provides a secured connection using advanced firewalls and Secure Sockets Layer ("SSL") that encrypt and protect any information that the Company's servers receive. This security protocol also prevents data theft and unauthorized access by third parties and keeps data integrity by ensuring that all data remains unchanged during transmission.
- 5.2. In terms of using or performing a transaction (deposit/withdraw) on the Company's website, all collected data and information are encrypted, where a security protocol protects personal information entered on the website to prevent data leaks.

6. Cookies

- 6.1. The Company uses cookies to obtain data to improve the Clients' trading experience. Cookies are small files from the Client's web servers that may be stored on his/her device.
- 6.2. Cookies enable the Company to see how the Client was able to access the website, which pages are visited, and if the Client is logged on to the website.
- 6.3. Cookies and other collected data from the website will not be distributed or disclosed to third parties.
- 6.4. Cookies do not contain any account or password information, and the Company will not collect information about other websites that the Client visits.
- 6.5. The Client can manage his/her allowed and blocked cookies through the web browser he/she uses. By visiting the Company's website, the Client acknowledges the terms, conditions, and risks herein. The Client can still use the Company's services if he/she chooses to block the cookies from the website, but some functions may be defective or may not work as designed.
