1. Risk Warning

- 1.1. Investing in the financial market is connected with risk. This statement does not disclose all the possible risks and other significant aspects of trading derivatives, futures, and leveraged assets. Considering all potential risks, the Client should only use the Company's service if he/she understands the nature of the contracts and professional relationship that the Client is entering and the extent of his/her exposure to risks involved.
- 1.2. Trading derivatives, futures, currency pairs, and other leveraged assets may not be suitable for all types of traders. The Client is solely responsible for ensuring the aptness of his/her experience, objectives, financial resources, and other relevant factors for the Company's nature of business. Therefore, the Client must take the foregoing aspects into thorough consideration before he/she avails of the services of the Company.
- 1.3. The Client accepts all possible risks, including incurring losses and damages, upon his/her trading. The Company does not and cannot guarantee the Client's profit or loss to any instrument he/she trades. There is a risk that significant losses may occur in a short period due to the speculative nature of the Company's business. All instruments can be potentially volatile, and rapid fluctuation can cause unpredictable events and results, none of which can be controlled by the Company or the Client.
- 1.4. The Client agrees that regardless of any information provided by the Company, the value of any financial asset or instrument may fluctuate and affect his/her relevant trade, including the trading account's initial capital. The Company does not and cannot guarantee that the information of the previous performance of a specific asset can affect its current or future movement.

2. Margin & Execution

- 2.1. The Company can but is not obligated to provide the Client information as trading signals, wherein implementing such information to the Client's trade shall be upon his/her sole evaluation and decision.
- 2.2. If the margin capital of the Client is insufficient to hold ongoing trades, the Company can but is not obligated to contact the Client through phone call or email for notification regarding the matter. The Client may be required to deposit additional funds on short notice. The Client understands that if he/she fails to act on the case in the allotted time, he/she will solely be responsible for any arising loss or damage.
- 2.3. The Company has the right to regulate margin requirements for each product, which could result in the Client's margin requirement growing. As a result, the Client may be obligated to pay additional funds to uphold prevailing conditions.
- 2.4. Refer to our Execution Policy and Terms & Conditions (34. Risk Disclosure) for more information about the execution of trades, margin policies, and trading risks.

Due to the high risks involved in trading derivatives and other leveraged products, you should only carry out such transactions if you understand the nature of the contracts (and contractual relationships) you are entering into and if you are able to assess the extent of your risk potential fully. You should carefully consider whether trading is appropriate for you based on your experience, objectives, risk appetite, and other relevant factors. Past performance does not indicate future results.
